NATIONAL NEWS

MOAA Stresses Need for Clear Veterans Strategy in Senate Testimony

By: Kevin Lilley

A clear definition of “veteran success” will help lawmakers and the VA align efforts to get veterans the care, benefits, and support they’ve earned through service, MOAA told Senate Veterans’ Affairs Committee members during April 29 testimony on Capitol Hill.

A National Veterans Strategy “can provide a durable, bipartisan framework that strengthens support for the entire veteran community,” Jen Goodale, MOAA’s director of Government Relations for Veterans and Retired Affairs, told legislators in a session addressing more than two dozen veterans-related bills under consideration by the committee.

One of those bills – the bipartisan National Veterans Strategy Act (S. 3726) – would create guidance similar to the National Security Strategy to “articulate national objectives, define shared outcomes, and coordinate efforts across agencies responsible for supporting the veteran community,” according to MOAA’s written testimony. Identifying families, caregivers, and survivors as key stakeholders and building metrics to evaluate government systems and provide for long-term planning would be critical to a successful strategy, Goodale told lawmakers.

The two-part hearing included testimony from VA officials followed by remarks from representatives of MOAA, AMVETS, and Wounded Warrior Project.

“Improving the lives of those who have served is not a partisan issue, but a shared mission that involves every member of this committee,” said Sen. Jerry Moran (R-Kan.), the committee chairman. “Whether we are addressing health care, resources, or the efficiency of benefits claim processing, our focus remains on those who served and sacrificed for their nation.”

The Beacon

Along with establishing a National Veterans Strategy, MOAA expressed support for other legislation under consideration, such as: · The Mammography Access for Veterans Act (S. 3395), which would increase access to mammography services, especially in rural or underserved communities, by making permanent the VA's tele-mammography pilot initiative. "For women veterans, it's not that they don't want to get screenings," Goodale told the committee in response to a question from Sen. Richard Blumenthal (D-Conn.), the panel's ranking member. "It's that it is difficult to make the appointments. It's difficult to find the place that will support them. [The act] will enhance opportunities ... to get those screenings as necessary." · The FRAUD in VA Disability Exams Act (S. 3000), which would require the VA to proactively target fraud in veterans' disability benefit questionnaires (DBQs). This legislation supports MOAA's long-standing goal of protecting veterans from predatory actors seeking to collect payment in exchange for manipulating the VA claims process – a practice also targeted by the MOAA-supported GUARD VA Benefits Act. · The Justice for ALS Veterans Act (S. 749), which would extend increased compensation to surviving spouses of veterans who died of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS or Lou Gehrig's Disease) no matter how long they had the disease, removing eligibility requirements that fail to consider the short life expectancy of those diagnosed with ALS. · The Carlton H. Ingram Veterans' Benefits Protection Act (S. 4140), which makes clear VA disability ratings should discount the effects of medication and treatment if a baseline condition can be determined. This law comes after the VA's passage, and rescission, of a disability ratings rule that may have punished veterans for treating an illness or injury. · The Stuck On Hold Act (S. 3170), which would require the VA to establish a call-back system for its customer service lines, allowing veterans to avoid long wait times.

The Maternal Health for Veterans Act, draft legislation which would improve funding and expand reporting requirements for VA maternity care.

MOAA offered conditional support for other legislation, including bills that would create a rolling five-year staffing plan for the VA and improve VA care and benefits connected to toxic exposure. Goodale pledged to work with the committee to ensure these bills address concerns from MOAA and the wider veterans community as they move through the legislative process.

The pieces of legislation under committee consideration may "differ in scope, but share a common principle: Veterans deserve systems that are fair, modern, transparent, and worthy of their service," Goodale told lawmakers. "MOAA appreciates the committee's bipartisan leadership and stands ready to help advance these proposals."

Pharmacy Access, Enrollment Issues, Overseas Support: Advocates Outline Concerns With TRICARE Contract Plans

By: Kevin Lilley

Future TRICARE contracts could weaken overseas programs, complicate enrollment processes for military families, and continue long-standing challenges with pharmacy access, according to a recent letter to the head of the Defense Health Agency (DHA).

The April 24 letter from The Military Coalition (TMC), a group of military and veterans organizations including MOAA with more than 5.5 million combined members, addresses issues with upcoming TRICARE Overseas Program, TRICARE Dental Program, and TRICARE Pharmacy Program preparations, outlining "significant concerns" in each instance.

May 2026

These concerns are at the heart of MOAA’s efforts to preserve service-earned benefits; we will continue our work alongside fellow TMC members and independently on these fronts and others to address access-to-care issues.

Among the items raised in the letter to DHA Director Vice Adm. Darin K. Via, USN:

Overseas Care: Plans “to rely on artificial intelligence, third-party agents, and telehealth” as part of 2028 TRICARE Overseas Program contract preparations raised red flags for the coalition, which also took issue with a lack of protections for existing specialized services and resources.

The program is used by more than half a million beneficiaries, including retirees living abroad and servicemembers and families stationed overseas.

Dental Care: The voluntary TRICARE Dental Program (TDP) covers more than 1.7 million beneficiaries, including active duty family members as well as reserve component members and their families. Plans for the upcoming TDP contract could make navigating this process more difficult:

- Decentralization: The TDP contract procurement documents ask potential carriers about handling their own administrative tasks, which could lead to the creation of individual websites with plan information instead of a single, easy-to-use web portal.
- Auto-enrollment: The new contract could automatically enroll beneficiaries who do not select a specific plan – an approach designed to limit unintended disenrollments that could serve to lock beneficiaries into unwanted coverage.
- Open season changes: The new contract could establish an enrollment period outside the traditional November-December TRICARE open season, “creating confusion and an additional deadline for military families who already deal with significant stressors unique to military life,” according to the letter.

TRICARE Pharmacy: Requirements for the next pharmacy contract, known as TPharm6, do not restore the brick-and-mortar pharmacy network, which shrank from 55,000 to 42,000 after a restructuring that included about 15,000 community pharmacies leaving the network.

While the network remains above the 35,000-pharmacy threshold set by the TPharm5 contract, The Military Coalition recommends restoring a 50,000-pharmacy minimum to “reverse the cut in network pharmacy access and prevent even further pharmacy network erosion in the future.”

Keep up with the latest in MOAA advocacy, and find out how to reach out to your lawmakers on access-to-care issues and other legislative priorities, by registering at MOAA’s Legislative Action Center.

Current Legislative Goals:

Compensations and Service-Earned Benefits, Military Housing, Health Care for currently serving, retirees, and veterans, Survivor families benefits, and improve Guard and Reserves pay and health coverage.

SUSQUEHANNA CHAPTER MOAA:

Susquehanna Chapter, a 501(c)(19) nonprofit organization was affiliated in October 1969 with the Military Officers Association of America (MOAA), formerly TROA. Chapter members live in Harford and Cecil Counties. We promote the MOAA purposes and objectives to foster fraternal relations among retired, active and former officers of the eight uniformed services and the Reserve Components.

The chapter has 60 active members, who are currently serving, former, and retired officers, and their spouses and widows/widowers. Working through the Chapter, we provide assistance to our membership, enabling them to continue to serve their nation and communities, maintain contact with the other services, and enjoy social fellowship with people who share common values of patriotism, honor and selflessness.

Our Chapter helps provide critical grassroots support for MOAA's national legislative agenda. Our benefits are under attack, and MOAA is in the fight to preserve them. Chapter members let their legislators know what's on their minds and open doors for MOAA's legislative team in Washington, D.C. In these difficult times, our chapters are the best way we know to do that.

At the local level we successfully advocated for reduction of Harford County property taxes for retired veterans and reductions of MD State taxes on retired pay for military members and first responders. We sponsored scholarships, engaged Harford County Board of Education to establish a JROTC program, and continue to coordinate community outreach to schools for Veteran Poster essay contests. We coordinated COVID 19 grants for qualifying veterans, volunteered with the Susquehanna Habitat for Humanity, and participate in local veteran memorial activities.
